

DHF Ministry Center Update

On December 29th, DHF purchased the former Masonic lodge in Lovington. DHF had originally planned to build a new steel building for the Ministry Center, but the lodge building offered far more space and much better construction than the original plans called for. The 4,500 square foot building has a steel frame built over crawl space and a brick exterior.

Several problems delayed the Masons in getting their belongings out of the building, but last week they were able to remove their materials. DHF is now free to proceed with the remodeling that will be needed to make the space appropriate for offices, meeting space and a video studio.
