

HI,

I received a phone call tonight from Matale. Michael (one of the church planters) climbed the mountain and was able to get mobile network coverage. He said that a large wind came and hit the new house at Olturoto Oibor, where Stephen and Panina, and Shadrack and Helen and their kids live. It tore the roof off the house. It appears that no one was injured, but the house is not inhabitable right now. They are living in the cookhouse for now. I am going to teach in the morning, and then gather supplies and go to fix the house on Tuesday. I don't know how bad it is, but they said that 10 iron sheets were destroyed. It sounds like a tornado. I will know more when I return. Our church planting housing fund is already in the red, so I hope that it is not too bad.

Thanks for praying, Gary and Judy Woods
